Music Makers is a fun parent-child interactive class. We sing songs to music, a cappella, with instruments, puppets, and scarves. We, dance, move, and play with a parachute! Children will learn basic speech concepts such as the alphabet, identifying opposites, and counting. They'll also learn basic musical concepts including rhythm and rhyming. Children will naturally build motor skills, social skills, and self-confidence in a fun and safe space. At Music Makers, I help facilitate parent-child interaction in a structured setting. Parents and children will be able to connect and foster a deeper relationship as they participate in this class together and use what they learn at home too! Tips will be provided so that you can incorporate music into your parent/child relationship at home.

Hi! I'm Hilary, your Music Maker instructor. I graduated with a Bachelors in Recreation Management. I am a mother of three. I have been teaching Music Makers for over 7 years now, and absolutely love it!
